Statement from Ted Zess, East Troy Community School Board President

EAST TROY, Wis. — Ted Zess, president of the East Troy Community School Board, released the following letter after the announcement of yesterday's election results:

Dear Community Members:

While I am extremely disappointed in the results of yesterday's referendum vote, I know in my heart that the East Troy Community School District is on the right path and that we must continue to work toward achieving all of our district goals for the betterment of our students and our community.

I firmly believe that we have the best administrative team in place to articulate these district goals, and the best staff to achieve them. The district has achieved many great successes in recent years, and working together, we can achieve the allusive goal of having the best facilities that support our long-term mission and help us achieve more successes. It is rare to have such a great group of people, in one place and at one time, who can reach for such lofty goals and be able to achieve them.

Although I'm disappointed now, tomorrow is a new beginning. While there will be disagreements related to the best path to reach our goals, I ask all community members to come together in support of our schools. Only together will we succeed.

Sincerely,

*Ted Zess
East Troy Community School District President*
